Children under twelve years of age, at the time of embarkation, for dollars less than the above; and infants under twelve months thirteen dollars less than the above-named prices, to Boston or Albany, and other places in proportion; but no will not issue a pre-paid certificate for children under twelve years of age, unless accompanied by a passenger over twelve years, who must be paid for at the same time and on the same certificate.

The above prices embrace a steerage passage from Liverpool to Boston, by any of our Splendid Line of Packets; provisions at sea according to the understentioned dietary scale; doctor's attendance and medicine on board when needed; port charges at Boston, and all expenses of transportation of passengers and baggage from the ship at Boston, to the destination agreed upon.

In addition to any provisions which the passengers may themselves bring, the following quantities, at least, of water and provisions will be supplied to each steerage passenger of twelve years of age and over, every week during the passage, commencing on the day of sailing, and at least three quarts of water per day:

Two oz. of Tea; 8 oz. of Sugar; 5 lbs. of Oatmeal; 2½ lbs rusty pread; 1 lb. wheat flour; 2 lbs rice.

Children under twelve years of age (not including infants,) are furnished with six pounds of bread stuffs per week, the usual allowance of water, and half allowance of Tea and Sugar.

It is soon as our Liverpool House informs us per steamer of the names of pre-paid passengers embarked, we publish their names in the Boston Pilot, and also notify each purchaser of pre-paid certificates, either directly or through our agents.

On the arrival of any of our ships in the outer harbor, we immediately dispatch an agent on board, to give pre-paid passengers the necessary instructions regarding their route westward.

Bedding and utensils for eating and drinking, must be provided by passengers; and those going to the Canadas, or Western States, must furnish their own provisions from Boston.

ENOCH TRAIN & CO., of Boston, inform those who take an interest in the welfare of Immigrants, that as owners of the ONLY LIVERPOOL and BOSTON LINE of PACKETS, they have determined that their Immigration business shall be conducted in their own name, on their own responsibility, and by themselves or their immediate servants.

In calling public attention to the subjoined list of the Ships which comprise our Boston Line of Packets, we believe that it is generally acknowledged the fleet of American Lines is sufficiently well known and established. The Thousands of Letters which have been sent by American Immigrants to their friends in every part of Europe, have ample testimony to the rapid and successful passages made by these Ships, and to the superior Health, Comfort and Safety which their Passengers have hitherto enjoyed. Many of them will be recognized as vessels which have gained the very highest character, by a succession of unusual rapid passages.

Packet Ships which are dispatched in this LINE:

STAR OF EMPIRE,	Capt.	BROWN,
WESTERN STAR,	"	THAYER,
FRANK PIERCE,	"	MARSHALL,
PRESIDENT,	"	CUMMINGS.
CHARIOT OF FAME,	"	KNOWLES
STAFFORDSHIRE,	"	RICHARDSON,
PARLIAMENT,	"	LAMPHEAR,
NORTH AMERICA,	"	DUNBAR,
DANL. WEBSTER,	"	HOWARD,
PLYMOUTH ROCK,	"	CALDWELL,
SUNBEAM,	"	PUTNAM,
LEVI WOODBURY,	"	NICKERSON.

These Ships, when in the Line, sail from Boston on the 5th of each month, and from Liverpool each week during the year, and are distinguished by a Red Flag with a White Diamond.

OFFICES:

Enoch Train & Co., Nos. 37 and 38 Lewis Wharf, Boston, Massachusetts.

Train & Co., Merchants, No. 5 India Buildings, Water St., Liverpool. Eng.

Train & Co., Passage Office, Nos. 116 & 119, Waterloo Road, Liverpool, Eng.

Train & Co., No. 121 St. Patrick Street, Cork, Ireland.

These magnificent Ships are ALL AMERICAN BUILT and constructed expressly for Packets. They are all new and of the FIRST Class, being built on the most improved principles and of the best materials. They possess all the modern improvements which conduce to health and comfort, as a superior system of lighting and ventilating, the very best Provisions, and a general medical superintendence.

The Captains have been carefully selected as first-rate sailors and men of humanity, and all experience is spared to render this the best and most popular conveyance to America. As Train & Co. have made such arrangements with Liverpool as will PREVENT their friends from the delay and annoyance sometimes practiced there, they believe that those who pre-pay passages cannot but see the advantage of being able to engage with a Respectable House, on favorable terms, to sail from the Port of Liverpool in Packet Ships, and in this way avoid the disrespect, annoyance and delay which they so often experience, when they engage with Agents who are but slightly connected with transient Ships.

As a proof that their Immigration business is conducted on principles uniformly Honorable and Humane, and that it is attended with universal success, they refer to the fulfilment of all their engagements, we are permitted to refer to the very Rev. THEOBALD MATHEW, Cork, Ireland.

We also subjoin the following testimonial from the Right Reverend JOHN BERNARD FITZPATRICK, D. D., Bishop, Cathedral, Boston.

(COPY.)

Boston, January 23d, 1849.

"I am happy to testify, from personal knowledge, that the firm of Ship Owners, known in this City of Boston, under the name of ENOCH TRAIN & CO., is composed of gentlemen of tried and unsuspected honesty, and that implicit confidence can be placed in their ability to accomplish all that they may promise, to those who have occasion to make any contract with them.

(Signed,) † JOHN B. FITZPATRICK,
Bishop of Boston.

The Charter Election.

We presume that we are not furnishing our readers with news, when we tell them that on Tuesday next, they are to have an opportunity to vote for a Mayor, Treasurer, Comptroller, City Attorney, Marshal, and Police Justice for the whole city, and 2 aldermen (one for 2 years, and one for 1 year,) an Assessor, Constable, Justice of the Peace, and Railroad Commissioner for each of the five wards. Of the present Board of Aldermen, Messrs. HADLEY, JENKINS, HAYDEN, KANE and WINDHEIM, hold over, though it is quite probable that Mr. JENKINS, holding another office, will decline as he quite as lucrative, will desire to be relieved.

Those persons who propose to serve the people, and are especially desirous of doing so, have either announced themselves in the papers as candidates, or are moving, as far as they are able, "heaven and earth" and other things, to secure nominations at the hands of the "democratic" convention which meets to-morrow, thinking that by so doing, they may be reasonably certain of an election on Tuesday, there being but one ticket left for the people to consider of the matter. The calculation may be a mistaken one, as the experience of last year shows, when there was no party ticket at all left.

The time has long gone by when party dictation has any particular force in our Charter Elections. Time and again our people have spurned such dictation; and since they have have done so—and only since then—has our city begun to recover from the injuries inflicted upon it by men chosen, not for their qualifications, but for their party attachments.

Do the people of Milwaukee ask for a change in the offices of Mayor, Comptroller, Treasurer, Attorney, Marshal, or Police Justice? Have the present officers done their duty, or not? and, if a change is needed, will just the right men succeed in getting safe through the convention to-morrow? men, we mean, better in every way than the present incumbents? We shall see.

As far as to the Ward officers,—the terms of Messrs. Prentiss, Buchsbaumann, Hickey, West, and Hill, elected for 2 years, and those of Messrs. Jennings, Schloemilch, Church, Betschy, and Orton, chosen for one year, will expire. Who are to fill their places? Somebodies or nobodies—better men or worse men. And so it is with the other ward offices.

Now what do the citizens of Milwaukee mean to do about it? Of course, if no other action intervenes, and if there is no opposition—if nobody cares anything about the matter—the nominees of the Convention to-day, and of such of the Democracy as get together in their ward "meetings," will be chosen, be they ever so much worse than the present officers.

Let us wait and see what we are to do.

P. S.—Since writing the above we have received the correspondence between a large number of our citizens, calling upon Mr. COMSTOCK, our efficient Comptroller, to allow the use of his name as a candidate for re-election. We publish it with pleasure, and as we believe that no change in that office can be for the better, are ready to support him heartily.

Legislative Matters.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL.

Madison, Feb. 25.

A quorum of Senators appeared in their seats this morning, but not enough to pass an appropriation bill, and to speak in market phrase, proceedings were dull, and produced nothing on which to hang a thought.

In the Assembly the doings were scarcely more remarkable till they reached the committee of the whole, on the general file. Several bills were introduced and several others passed, all of a private or local character. A bill to prohibit the taking of illegal fees, was rejected, "by its title." I do not know what were the provisions of this bill, but it is no secret that officers are not very exact in computing their fees, so that they but get them high enough. A Universalist divine preached in the Assembly Hall last Sunday, and a member remarked that he had not heard a sermon in a long time which seemed to meet the wants of the people of Wisconsin so perfectly as that one did. Perhaps the existing laws in relation to fees meets the wants of office-holders equally well.

In looking over my notes, daily, for some item of business of sufficient public importance to justify a passing remark, or word of exhortation, I am surprised at the vast flood of private, local and petty legislation which is constantly occupying the time of the legislature. Multitudes of bills are passed to authorize A B and C to do something, which a man of common sense would suppose they had a right to do without legislation.—A stranger, by looking over the titles of bills introduced and passed, would conclude that the people of Wisconsin had scarcely the right to sneeze without the legislative authority. The origin of very much of this small legislation, may be found in previous legislation of a private, selfish and exclusive character. An adventurer locates upon some small stream, and builds a dam or a bridge, and wishing to make his locality the centre of the round world, he forthwith gets a bill through the legislature declaring his creek a navigable stream, for no other purpose than to prevent a bridge or a dam being built above or below him, which might come in competition with his own little Fog-town; and the consequence is, that thereafter, neither bridge nor dam can be built on that stream without a legislative grant. For just such reasons, nearly every stream in the state large enough to float a pickerel, has been declared a navigable stream, and given rise to charters without number.

In committee of the whole on the bill to charter the Mississippi and St. Croix Rail Road Co., a question, or rather a principle, of some importance to the community, arose, viz: whether the company should be required to build crossings upon farms when desired by the owners or occupants, or only when necessary, leaving the necessity an open question, as provided in the bill.—The question was debated chiefly between Mr. Noggle, in favor of the former, and Mr. Orton in favor of the latter position. The weight of argument and sentiment seemed to be with Mr. Noggle's amendment. It was proposed to amend the amendment by requiring the company to build crossings not exceeding one to each farm, not only when, but where, required by the owner. The amendments were dropped for the purpose of placing them in a new section, and were not reached before the committee rose. I have no doubt that both these provisions will be adopted, as they certainly should be. And there is another provision which should find a place in every Rail Road charter, viz: that the company should fence their road whenever required by the owners of lands through which they pass. They must do it, or pay for doing it; and what shall be the damage in consequence of the extra fence made necessary in all time to come, by the road, is a very difficult thing to be determined by commissioners. The Milwaukee & Mississippi Company have found it to their advantage to assume this responsibility voluntarily, and yet in arranging for the right of way, there is no security to the land owners for performance, but by special contract.

In the afternoon the liquor bill was taken up as the order of the day and considered in committee of the whole till the hour of adjournment, without finishing the rending or changing a single word of the bill.

A full detail of the numerous amendments offered, would not be worth the space they would occupy. Some were grave, some ludicrous, and some ridiculous, and speeches were made to match. Mr. Reinhardt made a few remarks which, taken with his elegant diction and peculiar German accent, were somewhat amusing. "The German population, he said, had been alluded to by the gentleman from Waupaca, and he wished to say a word in reply. It was true that his countrymen were all opposed to a prohibitory liquor law. The German people, he affirmed, were a drinking people. To see the bumpers which their forefathers used in their day, and which were still preserved in their museums, would make a modern temperance man faint away, so gigantic were their dimensions;" and yet, said he, "our German ancestors were as sober and industrious—as intelligent and pious as any other people. The Germans were still fond of their beer and wine and were so accustomed to it that they would not like to give it up—they would either evade the law or violate it, or regard it with abhorrence, and he added, with great apparent concern, "should this law be passed, I fear there will be very much sickness among my country men."

The most important move was by Mr. Orton, viz: to strike out the sections providing for the agency to sell, and constitute druggists and practising physicians the sole dealers in the article, and in cases of urgent necessity only. Mr. Orton supported his amendment by a lengthy and able speech, in which he took up and analyzed the workings of the agency system proposed by the bill; and beyond controversy, he showed it to be extremely defective and liable in numerous cases and particulars to fail of its object. At the same time it must be confessed that he failed to establish the superiority of his substitute, so far as the restraining of the traffic is concerned, for under his system, every doggery would be a drug store. We may expect at the next sitting of the committee to hear a reply to Mr. Orton from some competent friend of the agency system. It is confidently affirmed by some who ought to know that if the bill passes in its present form, it will be vetoed. Its friends seem determined to permit no important change to be made in any of its provisions. S.

ILLEGAL FEES.—The bill of which our Madison correspondent speaks as having been killed by its title so unceremoniously, was a bill to prevent the State officers from receiving a large amount of fees over and above their salaries. Of course it stood no chance at all,

Why dont our "assembled wisdom" come up to the mark, and increase the salaries of these officers to a living rate, and not allow of illegal fees in any case?

Milwaukee & Horicon Railroad.

Mr. R. N. Messenger, stock agent of this company, writes to Mr. READ, of the Oshkosh Courier as follows:

We have now $300,000 stock taken in this road, over $200,000 of which is mortgage stock. The Books were opened on the 2d day of January last at Waupun. During the time since $250,000 have been taken at the three places, Waupun, Ripon and Berlin. The corps of engineers are now locating the road and have now located over half the way to Berlin, and will complete the same by the close of next week, and be ready to pass on to the survey of the line between Berlin and Stephens Point the week after. The southern division of the road will be put under contract as soon as the line to Berlin is located and the titles of the mortgages examined. And the Company intend to put the Northern division from Berlin to Stephens Point under contract as soon as stock for the construction of the same can be secured, as early as July next, and construct the same through as fast as possible.

☞ KNOWLTON, member of Assembly from Lafayette County, is of opinion the banking law of Wisconsin is unconstitutional.—Grant Co. Herald.

For the Sentinel.

RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

Messrs. Editors:—I beg leave to say a few words to your readers respecting Mr. Emerson's lecture on "Culture," read before the "Young Men's Association" two weeks since. It was certainly a pleasure to all who knew the worth of the lecturer's thoughts to see so large an audience on that occasion. It adds to this pleasure to learn from Mr. Emerson himself that his audience are large everywhere in the west. Of course popularity is no sure sign of real worth or greatness, but when the accidents of a truly great man's life have made him popular, it is a thing to be rejoiced in.

I think too, the attention paid to Mr. Emerson while he read his lecture, indicated a deep interest in what he was saying, if not a real appreciation of it; this could hardly be expected, as probably not twenty persons present had ever read and thought about an essay of the lecturer's, or had ever before heard the like in thought, style and arrangement. When Mr. Emerson lectures in Boston, it is really the finest culture only that listens to him; so we should not be troubled if we have not each and all of us in Milwaukee, devoured and digested him at the first meal. Next year we may understand him better, for really every honest man is an Emersonian, though he may not always understand what that means.

But to the lecture itself. It always assists one to form a correct estimate of a single discourse on ethics, either to know or to suppose that the lecturer did not say all he might have said about the matter. We have a puerile habit of thinking a lecturer, or minister, or any other public instructor, is bound, out of a courteous regard for our mental taste and stomach, to serve up the whole world and "the rest of mankind," on each separate occasion; but this can't quite be done. Now and then it is attempted by some very young man, but the people begin to "go out" before he gets through.

Mr. Emerson did not attempt this, although he gave us enough for once. This lecture upon "Culture" is one of a series of six, the whole of which he has read in several towns in the East, within the last two years. The subjects treated in the course are the following:—(1) Fate, (2) Power, (3) Wealth, (4) Economy, (5) Culture, (6) Worship. The name he gives the whole, is "Lectures upon Life," or something equivalent.

By thinking a little upon the good and true and wise things possible to be said upon each of the above themes, we may easily imagine that Mr. Emerson did not exhaust his knowledge of ethics in the lecture upon culture—that being only one sixth, at most, of what he might have said—I presume his lecture upon worship would have suited some better than that upon culture, while the one upon Power would have made little men stare. That on Economy would have brought the house down once in about five minutes, while those upon Fate and Wealth would not have made every wicked man tremble to his very bones. The truth is, a great man is a many sided man, and does not tell us all he knows in an evening. He can tell us fifty dollars worth without the least exhaustion. For my own part—having heard the whole course—I think the lecture upon economy the most interesting and in many respects the most profound. And still it seemed very wise in Mr. Emerson to select culture as his general lyceum lecture for the season. Nothing certainly could be more desirable, when all the great influences every where in the country tend to make partial men, to show us for an hour what it is to be a complete man, and by what means such completeness may be attained; and, in lieu of immediate realization, point in manly faith to the certain future, when our partial powers shall be harmoniously blended; and out of the feverish strife of to day, some forth prepared to work in calmness and joy. That is education indeed.

Mr. Emerson announced his theme, by saying that Culture is the ambition of the age. And this is so, because the most notable men of our time are but partially educated. This very obvious fact he illustrated by several capital anecdotes and very fine allusions to the actual condition of society, the common estimates of greatness and the frequent means of success The peculiarities of men make them great. They succeed because of some marked idiosyncrasy. Society is filled with "lions," not with men. So that it would be said in Boston, for instance, "Have you heard Mr. Parker? Do you admire Mr. Everett? Do you go to the Athenæum? &c. &c.—If not, why you might as well die". So in other places where the lions were exhausted, then, in the common estimation, society in the towns was only as good as a sucked orange.

Now to remedy this partiality and bring men back to sense, a deeper education and more complete culture is necessary. Mr. Emerson's object was not to define a culture that should knock off the corners and smooth the rough edges of rude or partially educated men. He aimed at something higher and better than has yet been reached, even in a single point. He would not level the many peaks of thought that now charm the eye, but raise the continent up to cover them. In a word he wished to show that what will make us complete men is greater and higher than anything that will make us merely notorious.

In order to do this he pointed out the conditions or means of culture, which he conceived to be these viz. Books, including the school and College, Travel, Society, Solitude. Most of his remarks were distributed under these four "heads," taken up in the order above named. It is not my purpose to attempt any detailed abstract of the main part of his lecture. Indeed this would be almost impossible, as Mr. Emerson deals in results, not processes of thought; so that each sentence is a conclusion, not an argument. We should have therefore to report his whole discourse to give a full idea of its contents.

His last "head," Solitude, brought his theme to a natural conclusion in a reference to Religion as the end of all culture, the flowering and fruit of our developed manhood. Of course he did not treat that idea fully, as it forms the theme of the lecture upon worship. But he left us with noble words of hope and faith, by indicating the great forces now at work for this high culture of man.—Business with its practical power; philosophy with its wisdom; Christianity with its love.—"All these all work to-day for the practical, the intellectual and the moral man.

No one could have followed Mr. Emerson without being convinced of three things.

1st. The real and great wants of Culture every where in our Country.

2d. The sufficient means for meeting this want.

3d. And what was best of all, that there is one man who surveys the whole ground of our social life, marking all its deficiencies; but still points out and urges the various remedies, with a faith so sincere and love so pure, that he never scolds, nor frets, nor calls hard names. This is the true greatness of Mr. Emerson, and it has not been equalled by that of any other man of this century.

I mean't to have said a few words respecting Mr. Emerson's style as a writer; as a speaker his style is almost perfect. But my article is already too long.

I cannot however close without expressing my hearty thanks, in which I am sure all wise citizens join, to the lecture Committee of the "Young men's Association," who have provided for us so interesting and really instructive a course of lectures this winter. I am very glad to learn that their enterprise has succeeded so well in every respect—much credit is due to all concerned.

I hear it suggested by many that courses of lectures by able men, instead of a single one, are desired for next winter. For one, I hope this may be brought about. A course for instance, by Mr. AGASSIZ upon "The Races," or The present state of Geological Science, would be of lasting benefit to those who should hear them. And if Mr. Emerson could be engaged to read the whole of the course above referred to, I think few would regret it. And in the mean time I would suggest the expediency of reading his printed works, for the simple but very laudable purpose of finding out what he is. They are at least as valuable as the last Novel or the last Magazine; I am almost disposed to say that they have an intrinsic worth equal even to the last printed Sermons or Religious Newspapers. At any rate read them, that you may condemn them wisely, and understand their author next year. T.

AFTER HIM.—The Picayune has a capital hit at John Mitchell in its last issue. It represents him knee deep in the puddle of slavery, looking dreadfully woe begone, and decidedly "sucked in." Horace Greely and James Gordon Bennett are enjoying the spectacle, while Uncle Sam proceeds to enquire what he is doing there;

Citizen John Mitchell—'Sure I'm thinking to sail my small cock boat in it! An' as for the puddle, they tould me ye wor proud ir it, an' took delight in smellin' of it, an' that if I rowled mesilf over an' over in it ye'd like me all the better for it."

Uncle Sam.—'Guess not! The puddles thar, an' was thar fore I owned the farm, an' I have to let it re, seein' that it smells all the worse when stirred. But I don't like a feller to go dabblin' in it of his choice, an' yeon must be a nasty boy, or yeon wouldn't be thar.'

RAILROAD MATTERS.—We learn by a late number of the Grand River Times that a party of Surveyors employed on the Port Huron and Lake Michigan Railroad recently arrived at Grand Haven having completed a survey of the line from Corrona, westward to that point. This and other indications convince us that the "good time" for Northern Michigan so long "coming is at hand. —Port Huron Commercial.

☞ An old lady in Washington N. H. undertook to explain the operation of a revolver to two of her little grandsons, the children of Otis Metcalf. She succeeded so well that she lodged a ball in the back of one of them.

AID FROM THE SOUTH.—The Missouri Democrat, known as the home organ of Mr. Benton, gives the Douglas project an earnest raking down in the course of an article on the action of the Illinois Legislature. We copy the following from its article;

We venture to predict also that those members of the Illinois Legislature who in the present crises fail to reflect truly and bravely the sentiment of the people of that State, will dig their own political graves. They have it in their power to determine the fate of this whole matter before Congress, for no one doubts that the passage of such instructions upon the author of this bill, would come with a crushing effect upon those demagogues who have so recklessly endangered the peace of the Union—who have disturbed the faith of compromises—who have renewed a sectional agitation—and all for the sake of cultivating the favor of an aspirant for executive honors. We trust that they will know their own duty in this matter, and will act it out without fear and without favor.

The Louisville (Ky.) Journal, in its preface to the sound and honorable appeal of the National Intelligencer, "to stand by the old compromise," says:

"We hope yet to hear many eloquent voices from the South raised in Congress against this high-handed outrage upon the intelligence and integrity of the nation. Is there no Southern Senator who will emulate the patriotism and magnanimity of Webster, and speak for true things rather than pleasant things?—if indeed the South esteem the violation of compacts a luxury, which we cannot believe? Where is our own gallant and gifted Representative? When the occasion arrises will not his voice at least be found pleading 'trumpet-toned' in behalf of national fidelity and the sacredness of the public faith? We shall listen for it with interest."

RED RIVER RAFT.—This famous mass of drift wood in the Red river is 102 miles long, from half a mile to a mile wide, and 5 to 15 feet deep, composed of a confused mass of drift logs, the accumulation of years, and still accumulating faster than twenty steam tugs and dredge boats can clear it out. Congress may as well give it up.

STILL ANOTHER.—The Appleton Crescent, democratic, thus comes into the goodly array of papers which no appeal to party fealty can induce to favor Douglas's bill;

"We have been perfectly astounded at the course which some have pursued in violating as sacred a compact as that of the Missouri Compromise under the plea of sustaining that of 1850, while the very violation of the former is an act of treachery to the other according to all interpretations given it for the last three years.

We may be in error, but after reading all the speeches which have been made in favor of the "Nebraska Bill," and the arguments of the Press which support it, we can arrive at no other conclusion than that it is a violation of party faith as laid down at Baltimore, and a trampling under foot of a sacred compact. If the South becomes a party to this prostitution of Northern Mis-representatives, it will be the most suicidal act of her political life; if she consents to the violation of the plighted and time-sanctioned faith of 1820, she must rely upon something stronger than the Compromise of '50, for the hope and the charm of its finality will have forever departed."

DANE COUNTY COURT.—The 1st section of the law increasing the jurisdiction of the Dane County Court, as printed in the Madison papers, reads as follows:

Section 1. The county court of the county of Dane, (in addition to the powers and jurisdiction conferred on county courts, by chapter eighty-six of the revised statutes) shall have and exercise powers authority and jurisdiction, within said county (both at law and in equity,) equal to, and concurrent with, the circuit courts of this state, (except in criminal cases) in civil cases, where the amount in controversy shall not exceed the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

This shows a clumsy attempt, by parenthesis and punctuation, to manufacture reasonable sense out of bad English. It does not read as in the original bill, and we notice that the Senate has passed a resolution enquiring as to who made the alteration.

Another chapter in the history of this bill, is told by the Madison correspondent of the Wisconsin, as follows:

After the Senate adjourned this evening, an Ex-Senator from Dane, came in the Senate chamber, and took a seat by the side of the present member, and commenced calling the Hon. Senator to an account for his votes upon the bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Dane County Court. Among the insinuations, he intimated that the Hon. Senator had lied and deceived him; whereupon the old gentleman, (who, by the way, is of too good blood to pocket an insult of this nature) sprang up and seized the young man by the collar, and was in a fair way of giving him "Quantum Meruit," when Sergeant Flum and others interfered, and separated them.

RAILROAD WANTED.—The Portage City Badger State says that it has correct data to show that the cost of teaming to Milwaukee, in marketing the surplus of Columbia County for the year 1853 and transporting merchandize, has been over eighty thousand dollars! The Badger State thereupon reasonably urges the citizens of Portage City to do something towards aiding the building of a railroad to their doors.

M. & M. R. R.—The February receipts of the Mil. & Miss. R. R., show the handsome aggregate of $26,000, being an increase of $17,000 of those of the same month of last year.

☞ Within a few weeks past the Buffalo and Bramford R. R. Co. has contracted for the shipping to New York of 11,000 barrels of flour and 12,000 bushels of wheat, it is sent by way of the New York City Board, the rates of the Hudson River Road being so high as to render this route the cheapest and best.

CRYSTAL PALACES.—The Irish Crystal Palace Exhibition is stated to have netted Mr. Dargan a loss of £20,000—almost as poor a speculation as the New York Palace.

The Sydenham Palace is to be thrown open to the public on the 24th of May next.

SALE FAIR.—The Waukesha Co. Agricultural Society is to hold a Fair for the sale of animals implements, &c. at Waukesha on the 23d of March inst.

Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Feb. 21.

Senator Sumner's speech to day was both brilliant and logical. The Senate chamber was crowded to excess, despite the storm and great depth of snow. The audience were delighted.—Statesmen pronounce the effort masterly.

The Whig papers in Mr. Prescott's district oppose the Nebraska bill, and letters received here say that Hon. John J. Crittenden will soon address the people against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise.

The plot thickens—the cauldron is boiling. I learn from an undoubted source that the Douglas wing of the Democracy were somewhat disaffected towards Secretary Marcy. They doubted his friendship for the Nebraska bill, and they suggested that the Premier be required to see in person the Soft members of the New York delegation, and urge upon them the support of the bill. This they demanded as a test of his sincerity.—The Secretary will see each of the Pitchfork, and he zealously, earnestly, and with an unmistakable sincerity, urged upon them the duty and importance of coming to the rescue of the Administration on Nebraska. His efforts, however, were unavailing. They said, in effect, that they were opposed to the measure on principle, besides which they were not ambitious of courting political martyrdom.

When the bill from the Senate reaches the House, a Democratic member from New York will propose, as an amendment, the Homestead bill, which, he thinks, will carry; and the ultimate effect will be the defeat of the sacrilegious measure to repeal the Missouri Compromise act.

The opponents of the measure have buoyant spirits this evening.

☞ The Richmond Whig, a leading Southern journal says of the Nebraska bill:

There are many, who, whatever view they may take of the merits of this Nebraska bill, look upon Senator Douglass course as a bid for the Presidency, and consider that he is now playing his trump cards in the game. He is known to be a politician of unbounded ambition, and they are so uncharitable as to attach to his motives the hope of riding into the Presidency upon the Nebraska bill. In that view, the aspiring Senator has mistaken his policy. He should have kept as quiet as possible between this and 1856—encircled himself in obscurity, and come out a new man for the nomination of his party for the next Presidency. His own fate in 1852, as well as that of Cass, Buchanan, Houston &c. and the success of an obscure politician of New Hampshire, ought to have taught him a lesson in intriguing for the Presidential chair.—No prominent advocate of the Compromise could get the nomination of the late National Democratic Convention. No prominent advocate of the Nebraska bill will get the nomination of 1856.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."—At last our people are to have an opportunity of witnessing the dramatic representation of Mrs. Stowe's world-famed story. The Company, a notice of whom we give below from the Lafayette (In.) Courier, and which consists of 24 persons, expect to open at Young's Hall, about the middle of next week:

☞ "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," by the Marsh Troupe, is now the most important topic of conversation in our city, the Nebraska bill not excepted. As many of our denizens as could possibly be "stowed" in Weaver's Melodeon have witnessed the personifications of Mrs. Stowe's great work, and numberless others are anxiously waiting an opportunity.

The universal approbation with which this company has been greeted in this community exceeds anything ever exhibited here. Truly, they deserve it all. They perform again to-night, at the Melodeon.

NAVIGATION OPEN!—The favorite steamer Pacific, Capt. BUTLIN, arrived yesterday afternoon from Chicago, with a fair load of passengers, and went on to Sheboygan. She leaves for Chicago at 2 P. M. to-day.

On Monday, the Traveller will be here from Chicago, and thenceforward the boats will keep their regular daily trips.

KELLOGG & STRONG are the agents.

The Fashion will be here to-day. See advertisement.

THE STREETS—THE STREETS. No man ought to receive a vote for Alderman in the first or third Wards on Tuesday next who will not promise to act at once upon the subject of grading, draining, and paving or planking East Water Street. It is in a condition disgraceful to a civilized city—rough, uneven, filled with jolts and jumps and steps—all sorts of walks and no walks—parts of the road way 3 feet above the side walks (see the block below Detroit Street)—and filthy beyond comparison (see many where,) almost. We should be glad to see the various candidates trotted out to-morrow or on Monday, and walked down and up the sidewalks, and then down and up the street, so that they might contemplate the scene. Sure we are that they would thereupon hold an indignation meeting, and "resolve to do or die."

We have urged this work upon our Aldermen till patience has nearly given way, and something will break before long. In dry weather they answer that "we get along well enough;" and in wet weather that "the work can't be done till the streets are dry." If the merchants on East Water Street cared a single sou for their own interests, they would make themselves heard in the Common Council in a voice not to be mistaken.—Talk about asking a lady to wade through such a place to see your goods! Why, it is as much as a stout team can do to wade through it. Wouldn't it be better, now, to have a well graded, drained, and paved street, with clean flagged sidewalks? We pause for a reply.

FIRST WARD.—The democracy were not particularly harmonious yesterday, and the defeated portion are somewhat sore. The following is the ticket;

Alderman, (2 years)	Jas. S. Mallory,
Alderman, (1 year)	Victor Schutte
Justice,	H. N. Wells,
R. R. Com'r,	Amos Sawyer,
Constable,	F. Ressler.

THIRD WARD—DEMOCRATIC TICKET.—The following is the ticket nominated yesterday in the 3d ward:

Aldermen (2 yrs)	John Shorteli.
" (1 yr)	James Reed.
Justice,	Wm. Holland.
Constable,	John E. Ryan.
R. R. Com'r,	E. Maloney.
Assessor,	Chas. Lane.

FOURTH WARD DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.—The following is the regular democratic ticket:

Alderman (2 years)	C. B. Kindlen.
" (1 year)	C. Bierbach.
Justice,	H. Powers.
Assessor,	J. S. Pardee.
Rail Road Com'r	J. Sercomb.
Constable,	H. Beecroft.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS, FIFTH WARD.—The democracy of the 5th Ward have nominated the following candidates, viz:

Alderman, (2 years)	ANDREW MITCHELL.
" (1 year)	JASPER HUMPHREY.
Constable,	CHAS. MEYER.
Assessor,	MARTIN DELANY.
Justice,	OLIVER PARSONS.
R. R. Commissioner,	RUSSEL EDDY.

Very well done for the fifth! If all the wards would do as well for themselves, we should not often have to publish calls for People's Conventions. We do not know all of the men on the above ticket, but those whom we do know would make good officers.

FARMING LANDS FOR SALE.—A. L. MCCREA, of this city, advertises in our columns to-day a large quantity of valuable farming lands in the central and northern parts of our state. We invite the attention to it of persons who wish to obtain farms at a reasonable rate now, which, by the completion of railroads among them will soon appreciate greatly in value. The list is full and accurate, so that the localities can be easily found

☞ A fight took place in a house of ill-fame near the burying ground beyond Walkers Point, between some Germans and the keepers of the house. We understand that the Germans went there with the determination of breaking up the house. By the interference of some men the fight was stopped.

ANOTHER FIGHT.—A fight of a few minutes duration took place near the Louisiana House on Main Street, growing out of some misunderstanding in relation to voting at the Caucus held there. With this exception, the caucus was conducted orderly and quietly, the opposing candidates for the office of Marshal, using all their efforts to preserve peace.

WEATHER.—Rainy in the morning, and dull, damp, and foggy all day. Streets sloppy, muddy, dirty—outrageously dirty. Oil cloths, oiled silks, mackintoshes, and indiarubber protectors in great demand. View of the street from a second-story window frightful. Great weather for young ducks, but bad for everything else.

THE GOLDEN GATE.—The steamer Golden Gate is reported by the California papers as having been got off from the beach at San Diego, without receiving much injury.

☞ Queen Victoria at the opening of parliament was attired in a splendid dress of silver tissue, over which was a robe of crimson velvet, ornamented with gold lace and ermine, and she wore a brilliant tiara of pearls and diamonds.

Forty thousand hog's bladders were sold a few days since at Louisville, at 2 1-2 cents each, to fill an order from Europe. They are used to hold snuff, lard, and for other purposes.

VOLUME X. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL. NEW SERIES.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

The Foreign News by the Europa.

By telegraph we have a brief announcement that on Feb. 5, an encounter took place between the Turks and Russians near Giurgevo. Three thousand Turks crossed the river. They drove in the Russian outposts and attacked the town. At nightfall they recrossed to their camp.

Further than the above there is scarcely any news from the seat of war. A few days since mention was made of a retrograde movement on the part of the Russians; and in reality they attempted to entice the Turks from their entrenchments by retreating to some distance beyond Radowan, where 2,000 men were left. On seeing down, where 2,000 men were left. On seeing that the Turks did not fall into the trap, the Russians resolved to send 2,000 men to carry off the stores received at a place a little to the northward of Skripetz. The commandant at Kalafat was evidently informed of what was intended, for before the Russians had quitted Radovan 3,000 Egyptians were despatched to the advanced post, and when the Russians came up received them and when the Russians came up received them and with such a heavy fire that they deemed it advisable to fall back upon Radovan. A Russian General was wounded.

Omer Pacha has divided his army into three corps. The first corps, about 45,000 strong, forming the left wing of the army, is commanded by Ismael Pacha, whose head-quarters are at Florentot, and where he is watched by the Russian General Bellegarde; his flanks rest on Widdin and Orsova. The second corps, of 48,000; forms the centre of the army, has its head quarters at Sistova, and stands under the command of Mustapha Pasha, so favorably known for his talents as a leader.

The third corps, the right wing of the army, with head quarters in Karrassu at the well of Trajan, is commanded by the able Halil Pasha, and is now 46,000 strong. Mustapha has caused Said and Soliman Pachas to make a reconnisance of the Russian positions from the line of the Danube between Rustuck and Nicopoli, so as to guard against any grand attack meditated, against Rustuck for instance. Halil Pacha, with a similar purpose has placed 24,000 men in garrison at Silistria, in order to keep the two Russian divisions at Kalarash in check. The movements of Ismael Pasha, in Florentin, are also quite of a nature to keep alive the attention of the Russian General Aureb.

On the other hand Mahmud Pasha is observing from Rahova the Russian division that is operating between the Aluta and the Shyl. Selim Pasha now commands in Kalafat under the eyes of Mushir Omer. The following statement of the Russian forces in the Principalities and in Bessarabia on the 1st January, 1854, is from a similar account in the Presse: Troops of the third corps d'armee under the command of Gen. Osten-Sacken, effective force, 39,388 men; fourth corps d'armee under Gen. Dannenberg, 57,955 men; fifth corps d'armee under Gen. Luders, 21,-936; siege artillery, guides, &c., 5,826 men; transports, 4,480 men; troops in Bessarabia, 26,760.—Total Russian force at the present moment, both in the Principalities and in Bessarabia 156,328 men, with 250 cannon, of which 72 are of large calibre.

The Greek Conspiracy.—The conspiracy discovered at Widdin appears to have been of greater importance than at first imagined. Rumor says that proofs are discovered connecting it with the Count of Athens. A priest named Anastasius was the ostensible head of the conspirators.—Forty-four persons of note are implicated in Constantinople—four of them are Russian officers.—Important papers have been seized by the Turkish police, directed by Aarif Pasha, and the ramifications of the plot have been traced and followed up through Bulgaria, Janina, Salonica, Smyrna, and the principal islands in the Archipelago. It is now considered powerless.

Persia.—From Beyrout, January 7, a letter throws some light on the recent action of Persia. From the letter it appears that as soon as the intention of the Persian Government to declare war against Turkey was known, the discontent of the people broke out in so unmistakable a way that the Shah's Councillors fearing an insurrection, called on the Russian Minister to give them in writing a repetition of the promises he had been so liberal with in words. As the Russian was either unable or unwilling to give this written pledge, the Court of Teheran at once requested the British and Turkish Minister to remain and resume negotiations. By this measure peace was restored in the capital.

A Constantinople letter says: "Osman Pacha, the prisoner of war, is now out of danger, but "can never hope to be reinstated in health." Osman, it may be remembered, the Turkish Vice-Admiral at Sinope, was reported to have died after suffering amputation of both limbs.

An entire corps of 5000 Wallachians passed over to the Turks, bearing only thirteen privates and two private men behind. Major Calenesco, under whose command the corps was, has been sent to Siberia.

The Sultan has bestowed suitable rewards on those who distinguished themselves in the Battle of Citale. To the commanding officers he has given decorations and gold-hilted sabres.

Congressional Proceedings, Feb. 23d.

In the H. of R.—Mr. Disney, (dem.,) of Ohio, from the Land Committee, reported back the Senate bill granting two and a half millions acres of land to Wisconsin for railroads in that State. He showed that the balance of the public lands in that State would be largely increased in value by such grants, and quoted the views of Mr. Calhoun in favor of constitutional power for that purpose. This, however, he regarded merely as a practical question.

Mr. Letcher, (dem.) of Va., asked why all the other land bills could not be brought forward at the same time, in order that the House may vestigate and discuss all the facts.

Mr. Disney replied, that was utterly impossible, as land bills continue to come in.

Mr. Letcher suggested that course because he wished to know whether there will be land enough to meet all the exorbitant demands.

Mr. Smith, (dem.) of Va., said that the House had not had time to consider the bill and act intelligibly, and moved to refer it to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

Mr. Dowdell, (dem.) of Ala., remarked that if the bill was now forced on its passage he should vote against it.

Mr. Cobb, (dem.) of Ala., said that he intended to vote, not only for this, but for every other bill of a similar character. If he could not do justice to all, he would to part of the States. If the bill should be sent to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union it never will be resurrected.

Mr. Stanton (dem.) of Tenn., could see no impropriety in acting on the bill now. Its principles were well understood, he could see no necessity for its reference.

Mr. Disney said the terms and provisions of the bill were framed on the model which the Committee on Public Lands have resolved to apply to all other similar bills, and which has been acquiesced in by the Senate's Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Jones, (dem.) of Tenn., advocated the reference of the bill, in order to its consideration, and give an opportunity for its amendment.—The bill contained too important principle to be acted on thus hastily.

Mr. Shelton, (dem.) of N. J., considered such grants as unjust to the new States as to the old. If not more so, because they would retard the settlement of the public lands, which will be increased in price. Besides, he was opposed to building up corporations to infringe the liberties of the people. It was not only unconstitutional, but unwise, and brought the government in competition with private enterprise.

Mr. Dean, (dem.) of N. Y., moved that the House resolve itself into Committee of the Whole, on the State of the Union.

The Speaker, in reply to a question, said if the House should proceed to other business now, the bill will come up when committees are again called on for reports.

On proceeding to vote on Mr. Dean's motion, the House was found to be without a quorum, when a motion was made to adjourn, which was refused to—125 members voting.

After another vote on Mr. Dean's motion, with the same result as before the House adjourned.

Mr. McKay has now on the stocks, nearly ready for launching, a splendid clipper ship of over 3000 tons, with three decks, and diagonally crossfastened with iron. She is for Jas. Baines & Co., of Liverpool, and is intended for their of Australian packets. We advise those who wish to see one of the best built ships Mr. McKay ever produced, to call and inspect this noble vessel. She is not sharp as the Lightning, but is of a very beamish) model, for both sailing and carrying. Mr. McKay has also on the stocks, for the same firm, another clipper ship of nearly 4000 tons; and we understand that he is about laying down two large packet ships, over 2000 tons each.

A New Cart.—A Lyons journal states that a new plan of building carts and other vehicles has been discovered, by which a horse can be made to draw a load one-half heavier than by carts as at present constructed. The new vehicle has four wheels, and when the horse is harnessed, the foremost pair come to about the middle of his body. The weight is thrown on the axels, and the vehicle is constructed in such a way that it covers the horse up to the neck.

The Troy Whig states that the whole line of railroad from the termination of the Harlem Railroad at Chatham to Bennington in Vermont has under acts of the Legislature of New-York, Massachusetts and Vermont, and the action of the stockholders, been consolidated into one, under the name of the Lebanon Springs Railroad Company. About 20 miles of this road are being graded and the remaining 34 are being located.

The Empress Eugenie having been prescribed exercise, she had a pair of skates made fitted with wheels, and on these she skims the polished floors of the saloons of the Tuileries.

City Auction Room.

March 1st, 1854.

SPRING COMES IN UPON US THIS MORNING, and no doubt we all hail it with pleasure. Yet we have no complaint to make of the winter that has just passed, for we have all enjoyed health and prosperity; but new ideas, and new designs, and new promises always follow with the fresh breezes of Spring. We are now ready to enter upon our duties with delight, and forget and forgive the past, and in view of it all, I would remind my old and new acquaintances that I continue in the General Auction and Commission Business, at the old stand, No. 148 East Water Street, (where I have been for years,) ready to attend to all business of every character and description, which may be given in my charge.

I have been engaged for a long time in said Auction Business and have endeavored to do right, yet in many instances, I may have erred. My arrangements for the present year will be somewhat different. I design to finish off the Second Story, with a Stairway from the Front, for a where a Register will be kept of all the Real Estate which may be left with me for sale, and their prices. The Lower Room will be appropriated to the sale of General Auction and Commission Business, in all its various branches, and as low a rate as it possibly can be done. As for Prompteess, I presume no one can complain. As for References, you can select any one in the City.

I now call your attention to the Valuable Real Estate, which is left with me for sale:

Lot 1 Block 55,		Fifth Ward.
" 7	" 47,	"	"
" 1 and 2	Block 68,	"	Fourth Ward.
" 7 and 8	" 6,	"	"
" 6	" 8,	"	"
" 9 and 2	" 76,	"	"
" 12	" 54,	"	"
" 11 and 12	" 40,	Third Ward.
" 1 and 2	" 80,	"	"
" 1 and 2	" 85,	"	"
" 8	" 117,	"	"

Lots 13, 14, 15 and 16, Block 92, First, Ward, the most beautiful Lots in our City for Residences; street all graded.

Also several other improved Lots in First Ward, at from $1,000 to $6,000.

Also, I would call your attention to a very superior Farm, Fourth Ward, on the River.

Also, middle ⅓ of Lot 9 Block 6, Water street, 3d Ward.

Also, I would also call your attention to a very superior Farm, 1 mile from the town of Delafield, Waukesha County, containing Two Hundred Acres, with a Brick House, Barn, Orchard, &c., which will be sold very cheap for Cash. The owner is going to California.

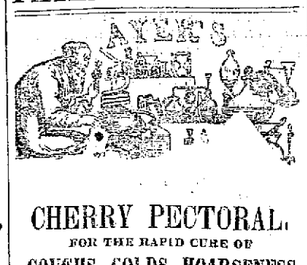
PATENT MEDICINES.



CHERRY PECTORAL.
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS
BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

This remedy is offered to the community with the confidence we feel in an article which seldom fails to realize the happiest effects that can be desired. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and when the virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what medicine to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs, which are incident to our climate.
Nothing has called louder for the earnest enquiry of medical men, than the alarming prevalence and fatality of consumptive complaints, nor has any one class of diseases had more of their investigation and care. Yet as yet no adequate remedy had been provided, on which the public could depend for protection from attacks upon the respiratory organs, until the introduction of the CHERRY PECTORAL.
This article is the product of a long, laborious, and I believe successful endeavor, to furnish the community with such a remedy. Of this last statement the American people are now themselves prepared to judge, and I appeal with confidence to their decision. If there is any dependance to be placed in what man of every class and station certify it has done for them, if we can rely on our own senses, when we see declarations affected of the throat and lungs yield to it, if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent Physicians who make it their business to know,—in short, if there is any reliance upon anything, then is it irresistably proven that this medicine does cure and does save from the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all others that are known to mankind. If this be true, it cannot be too freely published, nor too widely known. The afflicted should know it. A remedy that cures, is priceless to them.
Parents should know it, their children are priceless to them. All should know it, for health can be prized at no one. Not only should it be circulated here, but every where, not only in this country, but in all countries. How faithfully we have acted on this conviction, is shown in the field it has already filled, and the cures it has made. The proof is before the public. The sun never sets on the globe. The sun never sees its limits. No continent is without it, and but few peoples. Although not in so general use in other nations as in this, it is employed by the most intelligent families in many countries. It is extensively employed in both Americas—in Europe, Asia Africa, Australia and the far off islands of the sea. Life is as dear to its possessors there as here, and they grasp at a remedy as willingly. We do not make this assertion without authority. Agents have been established in all the principal cities of the Old World, and cures are shown there, the quality is never suffered to detract from the original standard of excellence. Every bottle of this medicine, now manufactured, is as good as ever has been made here-before, or ever will be, while chemistry is understood, and care is spared, in maintaining it in the best perfection which it is possible to produce. Hence the patient who procures the genuine CHERRY PECTORAL can rely on having as good an article as has ever been sold by those who have made its cures known.
By pursuing this course, I have the hope of doing some good in the world, as well as the satisfaction of believing that much has been done already.

The Editor said, Dec. 22d: "Dr. Hoofland's celebrated German Bitters, for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, is deposed-ly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These Bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbow says he has himself received an effectual and permanent cure of Liver Complaint of a most malignant type.
We are convinced that, in the use of these Bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor, a fact worthy of great consideration. They are very pleasant in taste and smell and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomachs with safety, under any circumstances. We are speaking from experience, and to the afflicted we address their use."
